

This year, the visual scavenger hunt returns “to its roots,” making it possible to identify all the locations on foot--- if you are prepared to do a little walking! Thus, look for most of the published images in the area near downtown, Marvel and Forest Parks and the area in between. All images are visible from public property, and they are outdoors.

The rules for the scavenger hunt remain the same. The goal is to identify the location of each picture. Using the numbers assigned to each photograph, name the location (address or description of the property) using the answer form provided.
